Inspire your team outdoors

Relax, reflect, re-energise and reconnect

Invest in your people Treat yourself, and your team, to a one-day retreat in the beautiful Northumbrian or Yorkshire countryside.

Build relationships

Whether you need to prepare staff for coming back into the office after COVID restrictions, improve retainment, or you simply want to reconnect as a group with a common goal, this is the workshop for you.

Improve communication

A chance to chat – some of the best ideas happen away from the desk.

Enhance wellbeing

Workshop retreat in the great outdoors – time out for you and your team to think about what's important to you as individuals and as a team.

Achieve clarity

I tailor the day for you and your staff. If there are any specific challenges you are facing, I help you get to the heart of the cause and facilitate a strategy session: together we come up with an action plan – something concrete for you to take away.

Increase resilience

As a former Managing Director of a successful business with 500 staff, I understand the challenges of attaining that elusive work-life balance and will share the secrets of my unique resilience training model with you.

"We have seen positive actions of change back in the workplace, coupled with improved team work and communication. They allow the staff to develop themselves, bond as a team and work on an issue away from the business."

Ian, Operations Manager

'Thought provoking.
Allowed me the headspace to look at the bigger picture.
10 out of 10 for organisation.
A safe place to talk in an inspiring location...'

Karen, Healthcare Manager
